INSPIRE · CREATE · ELEVATE

This porcelain stoneware collection celebrates the unique beauty of the stone quarried at Varana, in the Apennine mountains near Modena, Italy. It is a sedimentary rock formed by the accumulation of different types of sand on ancient seabeds. The collection includes three neutral colors in a cross cut pattern, reflecting the way the original stone is usually cut. The Tweed deco has a split-stone chevron motif in a seamless three-dimensional effect, suitable for floor or wall applications. The collection allows for creating extremely natural, elegant design schemes.
